

Lenny T. Mendonca
Director, McKinsey & Company

Lenny Mendonca is a director in the San Francisco Office of McKinsey & Company, Inc., the world's leading global management consulting firm. He co-founded McKinsey's Public Sector Practice and its North American Personal Financial Services Practice, and has helped dozens of corporate, government, and nonprofit clients solve their most difficult management challenges. Mr. Mendonca has served on the shareholders' council of McKinsey (its board of directors and Knowledge Oversight Committee), oversees the Firm's communications, including the McKinsey Quarterly, is the Global Knowledge Leader of the McKinsey Strategy Practice, and chairman of the McKinsey Global Institute.

Mr. Mendonca is the chairman of the board of directors of the Bay Area Economic Forum, secretary and executive committee member of the Bay Area Council, on the board of directors of the Bay Area Science and Innovation Consortium, and a member of the Alliance for the San Francisco Unified School District. He is on the board of EdVoice, ChildrenNow, DonorsChoose, California Business for Educational Excellence Foundation, and the New America Foundation. He is a trustee for the Committee for Economic Development, and on the advisory council for the Stanford Graduate School of Business. He is a founding board member of the New California Network and also the founder and owner of the Half Moon Bay Brewing Company.

Mr. Mendonca has led several McKinsey research efforts and helps direct the firm's knowledge development priorities. He has written and spoken extensively on globalization, corporate social responsibility, economic development, regulation, education, energy policy, healthcare, financial services, and corporate strategy. He received his MBA and certificate in public management from the Stanford Graduate School of Business. He holds an AB, magna cum laude, in economics from Harvard College.

